PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

An internationally recognized authority with over 20 years of established expertise in the detection, distribution, and prevention of child sexual abuse material (CSAM). I have authored more than 20 peer-reviewed articles in top-tier forensic and behavioral science publications, co-founded the global Child Sexual Abuse Reduction Research Network (CSARRN), and served as a scientific referee for over 20 academic journals. I have a proven track record of delivering high-level technical briefings to the United Nations, global technology leaders, and international financial coalitions. My work focuses on synthesizing sensitive digital forensic and behavioral data into scientifically defensible findings that are ethically sound, operationally viable, and meet the rigorous requirements of legal testimony. By bridging the gap between advanced statistical modeling and judicial standards, I ensure that all evidence and testimony provided are based on methodologies universally accepted within the scientific community and are operationally viable for criminal and civil litigation.

AREAS OF SPECIALIZED EXPERTISE

- Online Child Safety & Exploitation: Deep specialization in the distribution, detection, and behavioral dynamics of child sexual abuse material (CSAM).
- Behavioral Criminology & Cybercrime: Expert analysis of deviant behavioral patterns, high-risk digital environments, and paraphilic interests (including BDSM/Kink studies).
- Digital Forensics & Social Network Analysis: Forensic technical analysis of digital evidence and the structural mapping of online criminal networks.

PROFESSIONAL STATURE & ADVISORY

- Global Advisory: Provided technical briefings and strategic subject matter expertise to the United Nations, global technology leaders, and international financial coalitions.
- International Research Network Co-Founder (CSARRN): Orchestrated global cross-functional collaborations between academic researchers, technology leaders, government stakeholders, and law enforcement to standardize CSAM detection and prevention protocols; manage international conference logistics and strategic research initiatives.
- Expert Testimony & Knowledge Translation: Adept at translating advanced statistical modeling and technical forensic findings into accessible, actionable insights for judicial bodies, executive stakeholders, and non-scientific audiences. Skilled in bridging the gap between high-sensitivity behavioral data and the practical requirements of risk mitigation and strategic policy development.
- Scientific Referee & Peer Reviewer: Chosen by editorial boards at 20+ leading international journals in criminology, forensic science, computer science, and behavioral analysis to review and evaluate the methodological rigor, statistical validity, and ethical compliance of emerging research in high-stakes behavioral fields.
